

Ramblings

GARDEN GROVE KIWANIS RAMBLINGS, PUBLISHED WEEKLY

DECEMBER 15th, 2005

Hordes Kept at Bay

President Newkirk is able to keep control amid throngs

Those in the club who have been around awhile mentioned how they had not seen the club filled to this extent in a long time. Granted the men in attendance did have a reputation for filling any space with their presence, but still...

Not Hurricane Katrina survivors, just a picture from our files of Ray Beaudoin's daughter-in-law with Vanuatu residents.

Announcements

- Kiwanisland is accepting donations in lieu of Christmas cards, so far the same members who did it last year have done it again this year.
- Angel Tree gifts were delivered on Saturday the seventeenth to the Salvation Army. There was a real truckload (literally) under our tree.
- The canned food we collected was delivered to the same place. I went there last year and was overwhelmed at the number of people waiting for two grocery bags of canned food. There must have been a hundred people there during the one hour I was unloading donations from Pacifica HS.
- The District Council Meeting was held Monday the twenty-first at Kiwanisland at 7 am.
- We will be hosting the Charter Initiation ceremony for our Key club at Bolsa HS on Friday, January 13th. Burgers, dogs, lots of energetic high schoolers...don't you dare make other plans.

Turkey Shoot

Our goal is to donate forty birds for this year's annual turkey shoot. Bring a cooked turkey, at least eighteen pounds, and you will have access to our open bar, sandwich table and an assortment of snacks. The turkeys will be traveling on to be carved up to feed the homeless.

Happy/Sads: We dispensed with Happy/Sads this night as we were afraid it would take the entire meeting time to get all the way around the room. So we universally agreed that we were happy for the holidays and our families.

Issue Editor- John Leeb